

Infertility: Treatment with Acupuncture and Nutrition

An Evening Lecture With
Avery L. Jenkins, DC

Fellow, International Academy of Medical Acupuncturists

Litchfield Community Center

Wednesday, February 20, 2008, 7 p.m.

According to the research, acupuncture has a 65% success rate in treating infertile women.

Acupuncture is safe, has fewer side effects than traditional treatment, and is increasingly the treatment of choice for couples having difficulty conceiving.

Space is limited, so reserve your seat today.

Call Dr. Jenkins at (860) 567-5727